A COMPARATIVE STUDY

COMPONENT	ARTERIOUS	CHEAP ALTERNATIVE	ARTERIOUS ADVANTAGE
1. Incise film	High quality PU film	LD/PE films	ARTERIOUS PU incise film is <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Breathable : Allows air and moisture to transfer through the film keeping the covered area and comfortable. LD and PE film are non-breathable</li> <li>• Conformable : Unlike LD/PE films, our incise film conforms easily to the shape of body contours and creates a soft layer like a second skin allowing for cleaner and more precise incisions. Bacteria impenetrable : Creates a complete sterile field around the surgical site by creating a complete barrier to bacteria and other micro-organisms</li> <li>• Low Glare : Unlike LD/PE films which create a glare through reflection of light, our incise film is extremely low glare in order to provide the surgeon with a clear, unobstructed view of the incise area during surgery</li> </ul>
2. Adhesive	Skin friendly medical-grade adhesive	Industrial adhesive	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The adhesive used by ARTERIOUS is carefully quality-controlled tested for cytotoxicity to ensure zero skin-irritation or skin allergies due to application</li> <li>• The ARTERIOUS adhesives have the right balance of adhesive strength and peel strength to ensure proper adhesion during surgery and easy, pain-free peel-off after surgery</li> <li>• Cheaper alternatives use normal industrial grade adhesive which do not care for the above properties and can cause skin problems</li> </ul>
3. Fabric	High quality SMS / Sontara	Spunbond	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• ARTERIOUS uses only high quality SMS material, Which is a trilaminate fabric having 3 layers, while spunbond is a single layer cheap fabric normally used for making non-woven shopping bags.</li> <li>• The middle layer of meltblown ensures over 98% bacterial filtration efficiency to minimize the chances of cross infection. spunbond, on the other hand, has almost zero bacterial filtration properties.</li> <li>• Our SMS fabric has a high hydrostatic head to create a strong a liquidpenetration barrier, thus keeping the patient dry and comfortable. The hydrostatic head of spunbond is much lower by comparison.</li> <li>• Our SMS fabric is also soft on the skin, unlike spunbond which has a much rougher feel.</li> </ul>
4. Lining Film	Hygiene film	LD film	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• ARTERIOUS hygiene film is made of high quality virgin PE material, which gives it very good drapability and comfort compared to LD.</li> <li>• Unlike some films that contain fillers, ARTERIOUS hygiene film is completely skin friendly.</li> <li>• LD films make crackling sounds when moved or crumpled, which can be very distracting during a surgical procedure. ARTERIOUS hygiene films provide for extremely quiet handling, allowing the healthcare staff to concentrate other surgery without disturbance during the procedure.</li> </ul>
